SLEEVE

bowl

design by Rodrigo Vairinhos

SLEEVE is an innovative solution for domestic fruit storage.

This extravagant fruit bowl designed in shape of a sleeve that can be folded in different heights combines three materials such as ceramic, corkleather and polyurethane / polyester

SLEEVE, design by Rodrigo Vairinhos

Besides its astonishing design, SLEEVE combines rough organic cork material on the outside, like a peel, and soft impermeable fabric on the inside with two ceramic plates in between. This was a very important concept explored by the designer in order to create the perfect fruit container: something that protects and conserves fruit quality for longer.

This material trio is also intriguing because of its mix of cool white ceramic and white fabric and the warm dark highlights of cork.
