GUPPY

GUPPY

ceiling lamp

design by Rodrigo Vairinhos

Guppy is an eye-catching avant-garde lighting fixture that pops down the ceiling inspired by the design of the lavishly ornamented scales and fins of the tropical guppy fish and by 20th century cubist art movement.

GUPPY, design by Rodrigo Vairinhos

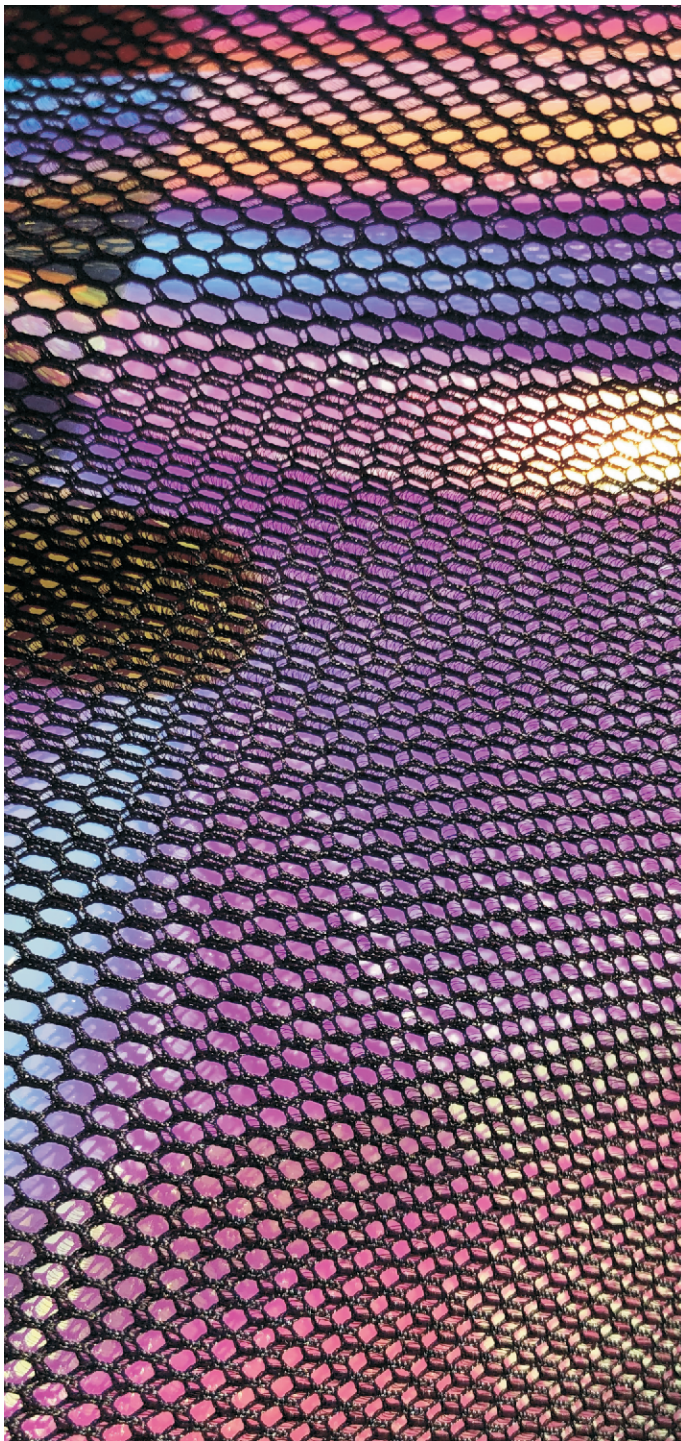

Inspired by bright colors, patterns, geometric shapes and different proportions, like Picasso would do if a Designer, and in order to interpret his own version of a stylized fish, Vairinhos has combined polyester fabric with dichroic PVC film to resemble the texture and the dynamic holographic colors and patterns of the fish scales.

Visual references GUPPY, design by Rodrigo Vairinhos

Spanning a cone of fabric mesh along an axis, the Designer has elegantly modeled the support to carry the light source in shape of a “stalactite” or “horn”, shaping the main visual characteristic of this lighting fixture.

The minimal and organic inspiration behind GUPPY with its color shifting effect carries freshness, fantasy, beauty and elegance all the way.
